

Hit the Road

Jake Ryan

[Verse 1]

Sometimes I look back, think about the roads I missed before,
I remember the switchbacks and the turns that'd lead me up to heaven's door,
It was the most beautiful thing at the time I think my eyes had ever seen,
It was the most beautiful thing, that moment's still alive in the back of my mind,

[Verse 2]

Sometimes I look back in the rear view mirror standing by your side,
A faithful comrade with an iron spine of a man that you'd call "mine,"
But I can barely see it now,
Sometimes, I wish that was me,

(oh yeah)

Sometimes, I wish he was me,

[Chorus 1]

I hit the road but I didn't leave you,
Unpacked the load of an unwritten oath I knew couldn't follow through,
I hit the road running wild but I left with you,
All those sweet, sweet memories,
You and me, and those sweet memories,

[Verse 3]

It was the most beautiful thing at the time I think my eyes had ever seen,
But you were still a heavenly thing, that moment's still alive in the back of my mind,

[Bridge]

Woah, press the pedal down,
Woah, looking back somehow,
The very last thing that I'm ever gonna need is you with me all night,
Woah, turn the corner now,

Wish I could change it somehow,

The man you need's not the stranger you see,
But I wish I could be sometimes,

Sometimes, I wish that was me,

Yeah, you know sometimes,
Sometimes, I wish he was me,

[Chorus 2]

I hit the road but I never left you,
Unpacked the load of an unwritten oath I knew I'd never follow through,
I hit the road running wild but I left with you,
All those sweet, sweet memories,
You and me, and those sweet memories,

If I was never looking back,

You and me and those sweet memories, sweet memories,

Never looking back at those memories,

It was the most beautiful thing,

You and me and those sweet memories, sweet memories,

The moment's still alive,

In the back of my mind,

[Verse 4]

Sometimes I look back, think about the roads I missed before,
I remember the switchbacks and the turns that'd lead me up to your old door,
