

On a Mission

Lately, I've been on a mission.
No more waiting, no more switching.
It's time to put the plays in motion,
Gotta stay disciplined, gotta stay focused.

There are many people in this world,
That want to be in your position.
Use your time wisely,
And stay focused on the mission.

You will face adversity,
And life will knock you down.
Take those hits on the chin,
Get back up and don't back down.

For you're the man in the arena,
Fighting with strength and heart.
Ascending to the mountaintop,
The light ousting the dark.

Keep going, my soldier.
You will see it through.
And when your mission is complete,
God will be proud of you.

Daylan Burgess Biography

Daylan Burgess is a Dallas-based creative whose poetry revolves around themes of positivity, self-expression, and unity. Through poetry, he expresses his idea of “paradise is a mindset” to evoke emotion while encouraging you to have a boundless mentality towards life.