

SLEEP

You thought you'd heard the last of me, but I can see now that you clearly don't know me.

I know you hear me calling your name.
Why are you running from me? What has changed?

You now seem too busy to meet up with me.
I'm trying to hang back and allow you to come back peacefully.

But if you keep on ducking and dodging me,
I will have to react. You can't beat me no matter what you do and that's a fact!

I am very patient I don't need to force myself upon you, you will always seek me out even when you really don't want to.

All I want to do is help you be the best you can be, so stop fighting me because I'm the one you will never defeat. I'll be here waiting for you when you're ready signed your friend SLEEP
